

Youth Ballet of Saskatchewan (YBS) is committed to providing a welcoming, safe and supportive environment where students are able to achieve their individual dance potential. Everyone is responsible for making YBS a positive place to participate in dance classes and performances through mutual respect and commitment.

All dancers are expected to follow the Dancer Code of Conduct:

- Strive for your personal best.
  - Always give 100%, maintain a positive attitude, and encourage your peers.
  - Practice at home.
- Attend classes regularly.
  - If you need to miss a class, please contact the YBS Office by email: office@youthballet.com or by phone: (306) 352-9908.
- Arrive at class on time.
  - A dancer needs to prepare body and mind for class, so it is important to arrive early enough. The warm-up at the start of every class is important as it ensures you are ready to dance and minimizes injury.
- Dress appropriately.
  - Respect the dress code and hair recommendations for each class.
- Respect for teachers and other dancers.
  - You are part of a team and teamwork is essential for everyone's success. Dancers are encouraged to make new friends and help one another.
  - Pay attention and be courteous to everyone at all times whether dancing or observing.
  - Rude or inappropriate behaviour, including acts of discrimination or bullying, will not be tolerated. In the event of such behaviour, dancers will be removed from class and parents/guardians will be contacted.
- Be considerate of studios, the premises, and other's possessions.
  - Help clean up any messes.
  - Collect personal items left behind in the studios or hallways.
- Use of Cameras and Video.
  - Dancers are required to comply with the YBS Digital Image Policy.
